The AMC Framingham 15 movie theater will host a special showing of the newly released "Where the Wild Things Are" on Saturday at 10 a.m. to give families affected by autism and other disabilities an opportunity to watch the film in a safe and accepting environment, according to a press release about the event.

The auditorium will have its lights brought up and the sound turned down. Families will be able to bring in their own gluten-free, casein-free snacks, and no previews or advertisements will be shown before the movie. Additionally, audience members are welcome to get up and dance, walk, shout or sing - in other words, AMC's "Silence is Golden" policy will not be enforced unless the safety of the audience is questioned.

Tickets are $6 and can be purchased on the day of the event.
