Ten days after canceling two seasonal flu clinics scheduled for Nov. 7, Framingham health officials announced Thursday through an automated telephone message the cancellation of two additional clinics scheduled for Nov. 21.

The cancellations are because there is no available supply of seasonal vaccines, officials said.

The Nov. 21 clinic was scheduled to be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the McCarthy and Woodrow Wilson elementary schools. The Nov. 7 clinic scheduled for the same time was to be held at the Brophy and McCarthy elementary schools.

Seasonal flu "shots" and seasonal flu "mist" were planned to be administered.

The next scheduled flu clinic is on Dec. 5, and, so far, has not been canceled. Seasonal flu "shots" and seasonal flu "mist" are scheduled to be administered from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Keefe Tech school on Winter Street.

According to the town's Board of Health site, "H1N1 Vaccination clinics will be scheduled when vaccine becomes available."
