Three Boston teens have been arrested after a 14-year-old boy was robbed at gunpoint inside Ruggles Station where he had arranged via Facebook to sell an expensive pair of sneakers, according to MBTA officials.

When the teen arrived at the busy Roxbury station Wednesday afternoon he was approached by five unknown males, three of whom lifted their shirts revealing they had a gun on each of their waistbands, Transit Police said, confirming a story first reported on local blog Universal Hub.

The alleged armed robbers then said, "Don't do anything stupid and empty your pockets," officials said. The victim's backpack, containing Nike Air Jordan 5 sneakers, was then taken from him, along with a Blackberry cell phone, wallet and Charlie Card pulled from his pockets.

The five suspects then fled toward Ruggles Street.

Police arrested three juvenile suspects Thursday in connection with the case. One was a 15-year-old from West Roxbury, the other two were 16-year-olds from Dorchester.
