The Massachusetts Department of Revenue recently released its latest report on million-dollar earners in each city and town across the state.

Altogether, there were 12,598 residents statewide who reported an adjusted gross income of more than $1 million during the 2013 tax year, the most recent year for which data is available.

That comes out to 2 million-dollar earners per every 1,000 Massachusetts residents that year.

But some municipalities had much higher ratios of residents raking in seven figures.

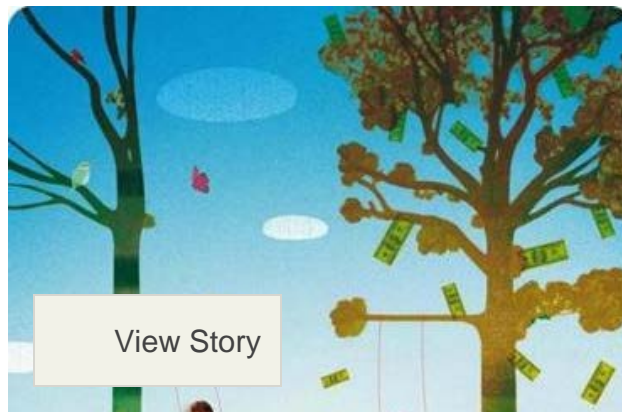

Weston had the highest proportion of million-dollar earners, nearly 43 per 1,000 residents, followed by Dover (34), Wellesley (25), Lincoln (19), and Manchester (16).

In terms of raw numbers, Boston boasted the most million-dollar earners for the year, at 1,617, followed by Newton (1,058), Wellesley (726), Weston (491), and Brookline (417).

How many million-dollar earners live in your hometown? Check out the map and table below to find out.

Million-dollar earners per 1,000 residents

This map shows the number of million-dollar earners per 1,000 residents in each Massachusetts city and town.

(Note: Towns with fewer than three million-dollar earners are excluded from the data. Million-dollar earners are defined as residents who reported an adjusted gross income of over $1 million for the 2013 tax year, the most recent year for which data is available.)
